BIA gives thumbs up

Community policing idea gets full support from local business owners

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Members of Minden's Business Improvement Area (BIA) are fully endorsing the concept of a community-based police officer in the village.

Business owners met with OPP Staff Sergeant Bill Elliott and Constable Ron Buchanan at last Monday's meeting of the BIA to discuss the proposal.

If community-policing is implemented, an OPP officer from the Minden detachment will be assigned to cover the village from an office in the downtown area, provided by the community.

The officer would work with a police services committee, made up of people from the community, to address concerns in the village.

"It's policing as the village requires," said Elliott. "With community policing you look into a problem, define a solution and take it from there."

Buchanan has served as the community-based officer in Haliburton Village since last June, and he said the system is working.

Haliburton stores have been losing $100,000 a year to shoplifters and Buchanan said that's one of the problems he's been focusing on by using surveillance cameras to videotape shoplifters in the act.

Buchanan's office is located on Maple Ave., near Head Lake park and the constable said with the amount of people who come in to see him, he's lucky to spend two hours a day on foot patrol.

"People come in to the office, one after another," he said. "They like to talk to cops." This increased communication with the public has paid off in the investigation of crime. Buchanan said that because of information he's received from residents, all break and enter cases in the village have been solved.

Elliott said Buchanan is handling more calls in Haliburton Village than the detachment ever did and the crime rate is down and still decreasing.

Before the OPP can assign an officer to the village, accommodation has to be found. The community has to provide office space and a phone for the officer to use.

Elliott said in a majority of cases around the province the municipality picks up the costs of establishing the officer in the community. The BIA members at the meeting agreed that council should be asked to fund the proposal.

A public meeting has been scheduled for March 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the municipal council chambers.

Baaaack to school

The little lamb made it to school, and this time it wasn't against the rules. This six-week-old ball of fuzz named Frosty made a guest appearance Friday at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School Annex, Primary Division. Audrey Kapeleris and Craig Hughes were two of the kindergarten students to be delighted by the cuddly harbinger of spring. The lamb is from the farm of Linda Kapeleris, north of Minden.

Haliburton woman found slain in apartment, police charge husband with murder

A 67-year-old Haliburton man has been charged with the first degree murder of his wife.

At about 10 a.m. Friday morning, Minden OPP attended at Haliburton's Parklane Apartments, and discovered the dead body of Isobel Allen, 55.

As the result of a subsequent investigation, the woman's husband was arrested and charged with first degree murder.

A post mortem examination was conducted at the coroner's building in Toronto on Saturday to determine the cause of death.

Willoughby Allen is set to appear in Lindsay Provincial Court today (Monday).

Attendants gain wage parity

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Haliburton County ambulance employees have reached an agreement with the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, gaining wage parity with other ambulance services in the province.

The deal was worked out last Tuesday between a delegation from Minden, led by Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry, and the Ontario Public Service Employees Union (OPSEU) which represents the ambulance officers.

Under the terms of the contract the wage for an officer with two years' experience rises to $16.29 hour retroactive to April 1, 1990, $16.81/hour retroactive to July 1, 1990 and $17.78/hour effective April 1, 1991.

The settlement brings local wages into line with those earned by ambulance employees in other parts of the province, in an accordance with a central contract negotiated between OPSEU and ambulance operators on Feb. 15.

The union had been trying to get Haliburton County ambulance employees declared Crown employees, but as part of the contract settlement have agreed to not to pursue that issue until further notice.

Union spokesman Terry Krulicki said all outstanding issues between the municipality and the union have been resolved to the satisfaction of the employees.

The contract expires on Dec. 31, 1991 at which time the municipality and the union will head back to the negotiating table.

Citizens' Forum

Last week, 12 local residents gathered in Haliburton to discuss the complex problems facing Canada.

Locals share ideas on Canada's problems

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Last Wednesday, twelve local residents found out how complex the problems facing Canada really are.

They participated in a citizen's forum on Canada's future, organized and moderated by Haliburton resident Barry Devolin, the results of which will be forwarded to the national commission chaired by Keith Spicer.

In his opening remarks, Devolin touched on the importance of public involvement in any process to reform the country. He said the late 1980's and early 1990's will be looked upon as a time of significant change in Canadian history.

During the first round of discussions, the twelve participants tried to identify some of the major issues facing Canada.

It was generally agreed that national unity and the state of the Canadian economy are two of the most prominent issues that need to be addressed. Other issues included the Senate, with at least one person supporting abolition of the Upper House, strong central government versus regionalism and the lack of trust in politicians in general.

Minden resident David Shapiera said one of the most difficult questions facing the county is how to address the problem of the growing national debt while maintaining the dignity of people who rely on social assistance.

With the government spending 39 cents of every dollar to service the national debt, Len Salvatori said the government is going to have to curb spending and delay some programs until the deficit is under control.

The forum participants agreed that the government could cut spending without cancelling programs by limiting the amount of money the government spends on itself.

Canada's publicly-funded health care system was identified as one of the areas contributing to the country's budget problems. While endorsing the concept of universal health care, the participants said the system needs to be reformed to eliminate abuse and over-spending.

On the topic of national unity, the group discussed various alternatives to Canada's political make up. One of the options presented was restructuring Canada's ten provinces into five regions; the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, the west and the north. It was felt that by amalgamating some of the less populated provinces into larger units, it would lessen the dominance of Quebec and Ontario in the Canadian political structure.

In discussing the future shape of Canada, the group addressed the question of native lands claims and self-government. There was general agreement that Canada's aboriginal people have been unjustly treated but no real consensus on how to deal with the problem.

Shapiera said there are examples of successful native self-government in the United States where some bands have assumed much of the responsibility for their own education and legal system. He said any negotiations to change Canada's constitution would provide a perfect opportunity to address native concerns.

Haliburton resident Joan Hoad said that if any group in Canada has a claim on being a distinct society, it's the natives.

The group seemed to be caught between two conflicting ideas; the notion that

He presented three options for the forum to consider; a sovereign Quebec, the restructure of Canada into four of five regions each with a great deal of autonomy, or continuing along the current course and trying to find harmony among the ten provinces and two territories.

Shapiera expressed some support for the idea of Canada operating as a five regions each with a large degree of control over internal matters. "Do we try and force the country to be a homogeneous unit when it's not a homogeneous unit to begin with?", he asked.

But Hoad described Canada's history as a "noble experiment" of trying to hold a large country together and where economic benefits were shared between the rich and poor provinces through equalization. "It's a wonderful thing to hang on to," she said.

Salvatori said all the regions of Canada need each other and Canadians have to address past errors that have been made in dealing with natives and the French. He said that English-Canada hasn't languages, most people agreed that Quebec should be allowed to be exclusively French but there was some disagreement about a language policy for the rest of the country.

Patricia Richardson said she feels that the Federal Government should operate in English only as part of a "one Canada, one language" philosophy.

Others disagreed, saying that knowing two languages is an advantage and English Canadian children should be taught French from a very early age.

The forum was much more united on the question of cultural and ethnic diversity. While recognizing the important role played by different cultures, the participants said Canada's laws and traditions have to take precedence over the traditions that immigrants bring with them.

They said immigrants should be allowed to maintain their heritage and culture but without any assistance from the government and without changing any of Canada's traditions.

The decision to alter the uniform of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to allow Sikh officer to wear their turbans was used as an example of Canada's traditions being compromised to accommodate immigrant customs.

When addressing the role that Canada should play on the international scene, some people felt that the government should worry less about foreign affairs and pay more attention to domestic issues.

There was also a feeling that Canada should try and assume a peace-keeping role even though our close ties to the United States influence our foreign policy.

As a final topic, the forum discussed some of the values that Canada should try and preserve. These included our tradition of political and personal freedom, and our history of relying on negotiation and compromise instead of violence to solve problems.

Although 12 people in Haliburton County aren't going to be able to solve Canada's problems, they were able to discuss the issues involved and present some idea of what they'd like to see in the future.

The results of the discussion will be forwarded to Ottawa for consideration by the Citizens' Forum on Canada's Future.

Trying to hold a large country like Canada together has been a "noble experiment," says Haliburton resident Joan Hoad. "It's a wonderful thing to hang on to."

natives should be afforded special recognition versus the idea that all Canadians, regardless of race or culture, should be treated equally.

Canadian governments, past and present, were criticized for spending millions of dollars a year on social programs for native Canadians without addressing the root of the problems.

Salvatori suggested that the native culture could be recognized as a part of Canada's history along with the English and the French.

One of the most contentious questions facing Canadians, and the reason for much of the discussion about the country's future, is the growing push by Quebecers for sovereignty.

Devolin said Quebec is pursuing an agenda that may take the province out of Confederation and the rest of Canada has to discuss the issue to come up with some ideas of its own.

fulfilled the agreement it made with Quebec at the time of Confederation.

"It's a part of growing up," he said. "It's a big beautiful land and we should keep it." If he had to choose, Salvatori said he would like to see Canadians fighting to keep the country together.

Ken Sanderson said the issue of unity has to be resolved because the uncertainty of Canada's future is affecting our ability to attract investment and trade from other countries.

Although the forum's participants agreed that there is some anti-French sentiment in English Canada, they said these feelings are the result of frustration from being unable to reach an agreement with Quebec.

The forum agreed that all would like to see Quebec remain a part of Canada and that both English and French Canadians have a responsibility to try and resolve their differences.

Kids are keen on science at Kinmount Public School's fair

The Pearson family swept this year's Kinmount school science fair as Carrie Pearson captured first place in the Intermediate division and brother Jeff took top spot in the Junior Division.

Carrie's project involved determining the effects of motor oil on animal fur and feathers to simulate the damage done to wildlife by oil spills.

Jeff's entry was an experiment that demonstrated the role played by the sun when leaves turn different colours in the autumn.

In the Intermediate division, Marty Dettman and Aaron Belton earned second place for their comparison of pool floors while Jessica Franzen and Dayle Gray placed third for their red cabbage test.

Honourable mentions went to Jason Longhurst and Steven Bennet for their friction experiment and Jessica Bowman for her display on puzzles.

In the Junior Division, Amanda Magee and Kristy Lafferty earned second place for their project on holograms, Jamie Everingham and Angela West placed third with an experiment on the water cycle, Billy Fountain received an honourable mention for his home-made incubator and Wade Hartin also received an honourable mention for his battery test.

Jeff Pearson with his experiment on the way leaves change colour.

Carrie Pearson found out that oil can damage feathers and fur.

Junior winners Wade Hartin, Billy Fountain, Jamie Everingham, Angela West, Kristy Lafferty, Amanda Magee and Jeff Pearson.

Choking on smoke vote

The smoker, though rapidly diminishing in numbers, may have been elevated to a new status following the introduction of the latest federal budget. The new taxes assessed against tobacco products, makes this an elite group of taxpayers who are, through their habit, making an inordinate contribution to the federal treasury. Surely such persistence and dedication deserves recognition.

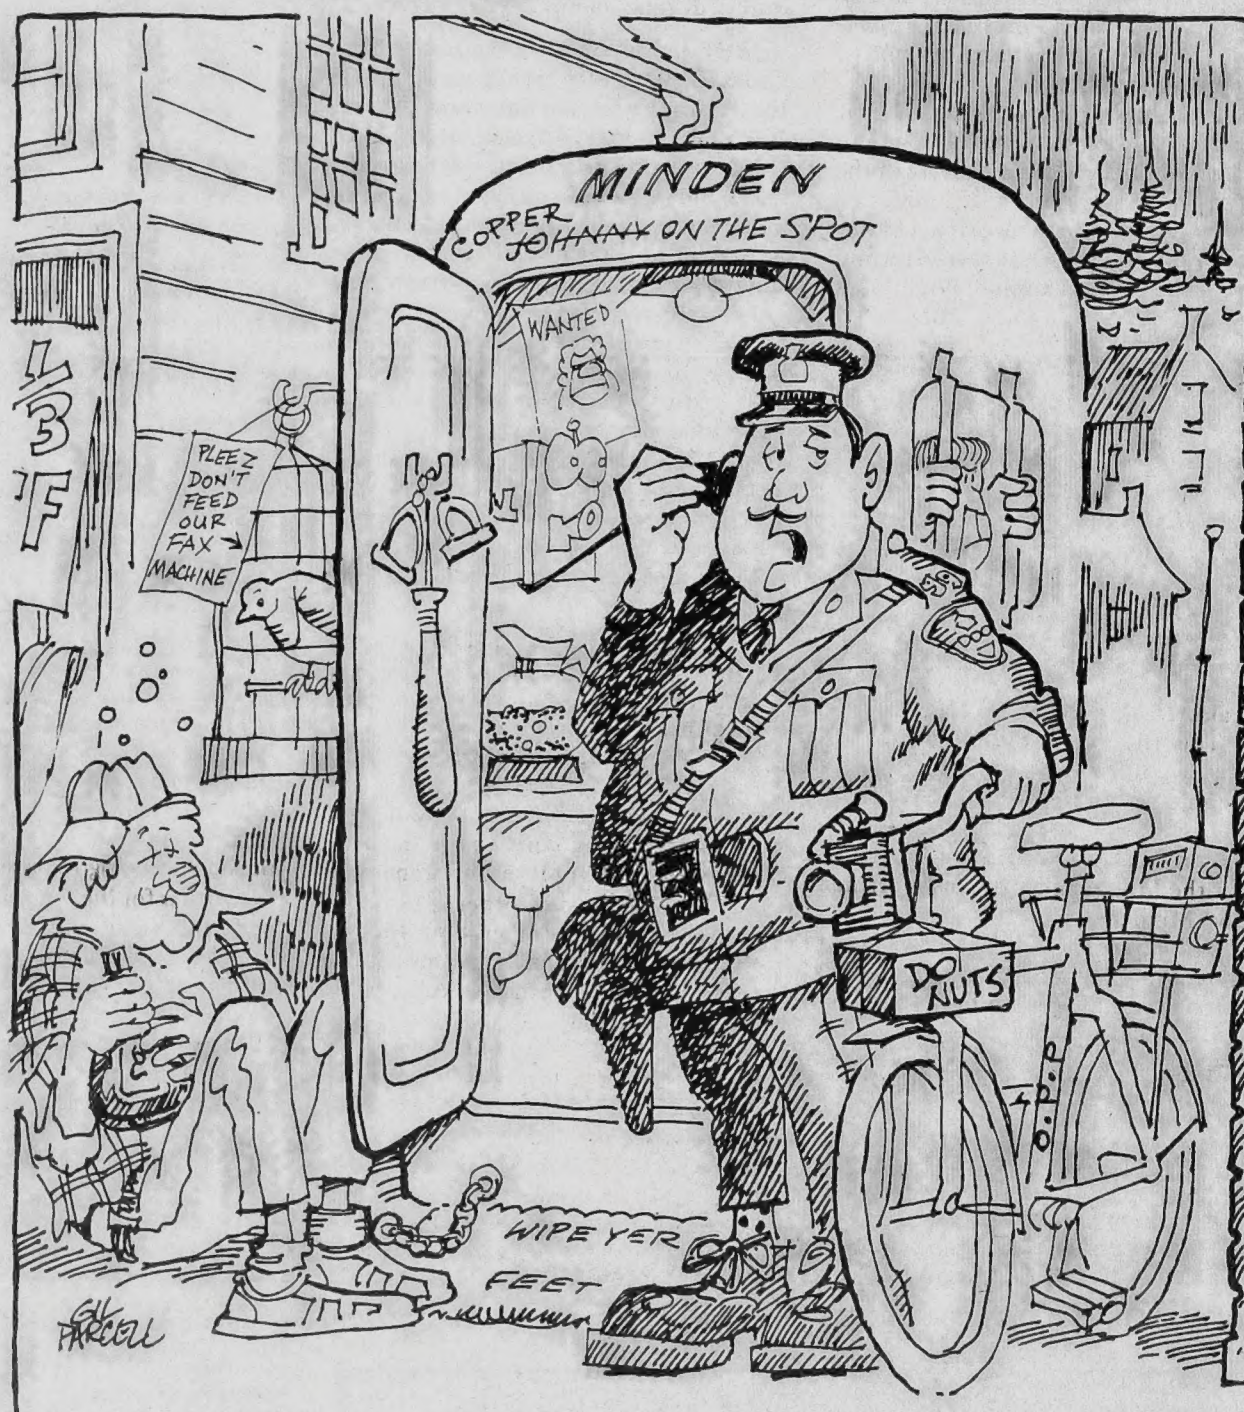

However, we have trouble imagining what was going through the minds of the Haliburton County School Board of Trustees when they took a giant step backwards in its smoking policy.

At the board's February meeting, it was agreed to ease up on the ban of smoking on the board-owned property. Specifically the board said it was alright for smokers to light up outside a building. Previously, the ban on smoking extended to all board property. It appears the board action was based in part on a request from those few staff and teachers who still smoke and who found it awkward or inconvenient to leave the property to smoke.

Just last year, the board relented on its total ban policy to allow high school students to smoke outside on school property. When the total ban was introduced, the students moved from the bicycle shed at the back of the school to an area in front of another old smoker, the classic steam engine which stands on public property at the front of the high school. One of the reasons offered for allowing the students to return to the bicycle shed, was the safety hazard the cluster of students created at the front of the school when school buses turned in an adjacent driveway. No one at the time questioned the wisdom of providing young people with a safe place to smoke.

The board has struggled with the smoking policy over a number of years, fighting an uphill battle in many cases to get the weed under control and finally out of its life (and property) once and for all. Now, like someone who has kicked the habit, the board is backsliding--just a little bit here, and a little bit there--all based on legitimate reasons while ignoring the bald truth that smoking is bad for an individual's health.

What kind of message does that send to the students we have entrusted to the care and guidance of these trustees? What sort of message does that send to individuals who are attempting to kick the habit? It's time the board set an example and voted for the health of its students and staff.

Saying goodbye to costly Cardin clothing

No offense intended to the talented and tasteful typographical Trojans who put this edition together, but reading a good fat newspaper is a little like browsing through a garbage dump. You can wade and sift through the headlines and bylines, photos and supermarket ads, knowing that no matter how dull or irrelevant or repulsive the material gets, you just might turn up a veritable nugget in the next instant.

It happened to me while slogging through a hippo-sized issue of the Toronto Daily Star the other day. One minute my eyes were glazing over from a surfeit of stories about layoffs and shutdowns and downturns, the next minute I was transfixed by a headline that read

Yellow ribbons honour our gutsy troops in the Middle East

Editor:

After reading your February 25 edition, I was dismayed at the comments made by some of the councillors of Lutterworth Township after hearing the request of Dave McAdam of the local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion to post a yellow ribbon on their flagpole. Today, when I read the reaction of a number of your readers, including Irene Moore, Don Holden and John Latimer, I felt obliged to add my comments.

I spent eleven years in the Royal Canadian Air Force and I am very proud to display a flag or even an "American-like" yellow ribbon. If it is wrong to follow American ideas then I guess we as Canadians have made a lot of mistakes, just a few of which were correctly quoted by John Latimer. For many years and more than a couple of wars, Canadians have been famous for making do with the equipment that was available. Our sailors have been relegated from one of the best navies in the world to a much lesser force by years and years of indecisive governments but the three ships in the Gulf were quickly upgraded with hi-tech equipment.

The council member from Lutterworth who made the statement about "a couple of tin cans out there" is obviously not watching Canadian television on his foreign built set or he would realize there are two destroyers and a well-equipped supply ship representing Canada on the waters of the Gulf. He would also realize that there are also 26 of the world's best fighter aircraft, (albeit they are "Made in the U.S. of A. but flown by the very BEST pilots in the world, who were "Made in Canada") and of course to have the very best aircraft flown by the very best pilots you must have the very BEST ground crews! But I think what upsets me most is that the councillor has not given credit to the Medical Staff on the frontline mobile hospital requested by the coalition brass from the very obvious quality they possess. They not only treated our troops and those of our allies but also the wounded enemy of the army of the "Madman from Baghdad"!

I suggest to the Lutterworth Council that none of us want our troops killed or injured in the Middle East, but thank God for those who have the intestinal fortitude to do more than whine for Peace! Thank God for people like the Legion who care! And God Bless Canada, the True North Strong and Free! And God Bless America, Home of the Brave and Land of the Free!

Mike Maher, Minden.

Proud Canadian doesn't need US traditions

Editor:

This is in response to Mr. Latimer from the "sheltered Mercer home".

Too bad there are not more politicians in Canada like Mrs. Mercer, who are willing to stand up for Canada as opposed to those who are willing to bow down to the Americans' every whim.

I want all of our Canadian troops home safely as much as every other Canadian, however, I don't feel we have to tie yellow ribbons on flag poles to show it. In past wars Canadians on a whole have shown that we do not spit on any returning troops as they have done in the United States, (i.e. Vietnam). Americans have something to prove to themselves--we don't.

Americans have a tendency to pour Arms and technology into so called "friendly" countries, then decide the countries are too powerful and go in and kill and maim not only the military they built up but innocent men, women and children (i.e. Noriega in Panama and now Hussein in Iraq). When the Americans were in conflict with Iran, Hussein was great, now he is a madman. When did he change?

Personally, I think Canada's military is far more suited to help in a peace keeping role.

You can tie a yellow ribbon up at your house if you think it proves something. I do not need ribbons to provide I am a proud Canadian.

Shannon Mercer

(P.S. No, I don't like the Bruins or the Yankees-- I am a Blue Jays and Maple Leaf fan.)

Ambulance attendants meet high standards

Editor:

This letter is in response to the ongoing controversy over the issue of wages and/or employee status between the ambulance attendants of Haliburton County and the Negotiating Committee for the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

I do not feel that it is appropriate for the employees of the Haliburton County Ambulance Service to have their wage scale based on a municipal level when their qualifications must meet or exceed Provincial standards in order for them to be licenced for work.

If the municipality wants to rate the ambulance attendants wages the same as a municipal employee, be prepared to send ALL of its other municipal employees out for upgrading to meet the same educational and profession (provincial) standards required by an ambulance attendant.

The employees of Haliburton County Ambulance Service, if justice is served, should have wage rates in line with other ambulance attendants who do the same work and must meet the same outside licencing requirements.

In order for these people to be kept on par with their counterparts in other areas, the municipality will have to pay them the going rate. This should happen now and every time there is a provincial increase, regardless of the politicians in office at the time. If the municipality is unwilling to consider such a clause in the contract, they should allow them to switch over and become government employees as they have requested. This will reduce the fish-dock haggling that we are suffering through now and allow the attendants to negotiate their wages along with their professional colleagues.

If the municipality is unwilling to come to some kind of settlement so that

Councillor should help, not criticize

The following is an open letter directed to Lutterworth Councillor Bill Valentine.

In response to criticism of trails lacking proper grooming.

You do not support our troops in the Gulf, you do not support the local snowmobile club, I tip my helmet to you and ask not where have all the groomers gone but where have all the husbands gone? They never seem to be around. Oh yes, they are out grooming trails all night so people like you, Bill Valentine, that sit around can complain and put our hard work down. What a great guy, what a great, supportive councillor. Think volunteering not criticizing.

See you on the trails.

Jeff Babineau

Do the fashion pages belong with the obituaries?

This is the best news I've heard since Paul Henderson decided to shoot instead of pass.

According to the news story beneath the headline, high fashions demise is strictly a matter of economics. Nearly half the firms that buy haute couture lines are American and thanks to the recession, they aren't buying the way they used to. "We started to feel the effects of the general economic situation last May," lamented the general director of a major French couturier, "...people were more hesitant about buying".

It's kind of like The Emperor's New Clothes story writ large. I find it difficult to imagine that High Fashion, which held us all to ransom for years, is suddenly on its deathbed.

More than years--centuries. Humankind's fascination with bodily adornment can be traced back to 7500 BC when Egyptian shepherds in the Nile Valley discovered that the oil from crushed castor beans would both protect them from the sun and give them a George Hamilton-style tan. Pretty soon Egyptians with pretensions to glamor were slapping henna on their hair and kohl on the bags under their eyes--not to mention all manner of oils, pastes, powders and unguents. Half a century before the stable scene in Bethlehem, Cleopatra was dabbing red ochre on her cheeks and painting her upper eyelids blue-black and lower lids green.

Could Coco Chanel be far behind?

We've gone through some pretty Dali-esque fashion trends through the ages. The Roman poet Ovid advocated a face pack of raw egg and mashed narcissus bulbs for smooth skin. Nero and his acolytes smeared lead and chalk on their faces. Elizabeth the first plucked out her eyebrows and dyed her hair red. Catherine of Medici decreed that all the ladies of her court must have a 13 inch waist. (The beanpole model Twiggy measured 22 inches around the equator). In the 19th century women of fashion wore bathing suits made of wool, with a fitted bodice, a high neck, full sleeves, a knee length skirt, under which were bloomers, full-length black stockings and low canvas shoes. When wet, the bathing suits often outweighed the bathers.

And then of course, there's the zoot suit, the topless gown, the sack dress and Madonna.

Clearly fashion has been quite insane for some time.

And now it's dying. "These are the last days of haute couture", mourns Jacques Mouclier, head of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne. "Women don't need it anymore...people are not in the mood to go out and spend their money on haute couture dresses."

I hope Monsieur Mouclier is right, but I doubt any complex economic virus is to blame. I suspect haute couture is succumbing to the same thing that killed off the dinosaurs.

It's just too stupid to live.

There is no absolute victory with more than 100,000 dead

Editor:

If we of the free world are so brave, noble, and strong that we can confront Saddam Hussein in his occupation and pillaging of Kuwait, then why are we as people so reluctant to acknowledge the events which led to and supported the Persian Gulf War, and the complicity of many of the coalition members?

The United States, and others in the "United Nations" coalition fed Saddam Hussein with weapons steadily until shortly before last September. Saddam Hussein was granted a rallying call for neighbouring Arab states vis-a-vis the American refusal to address Israel's unabated repression of the Palestinian people's rights. A depressed post cold war American arms industry was reprieved by the conflict. And in Canada as well as America, the war served as an excellent smoke screen to obscure crumbling economies and threadbare social fabric.

I cannot conceive how one could feel anything other than deep regret and sorrow in the face of more than 100,000 people lying as corpses in the desert. Is this a dignified resolution to conflict, an "absolute victory"? I wonder why God should bless Canada or America, for while we applaud ourselves as harbingers of peace, freedom and democracy, we have also been quite instrumental in allowing the very conditions for Kuwait's occupation to arise.

(P.S. and isn't it ironic that before the occupation, only 60,000 (men) of Kuwait's 1.9 million residents had voting "privileges".)

Aaron Senitt, Carnarvon.

Canadians should be proud of alliance with Americans

Editor:

The council of Lutterworth sure must be proud of themselves in rejecting the yellow ribbons on township property that are on display all over the world for the troops of the coalition of which Canada is a member.

If it were not for the United States where would the allies have been during the first and second world war? Without their help we would never have won. Perhaps the United States should say to Councillor Mercer, "If you don't want anything to do with us, then we don't want anything to do with you. So don't come down here for a holiday or anything else. We don't want you and that goes for anyone else with your views."

The rest of the Council are nothing more than a bunch of hypocrites, our "tin cans", as Councillor Boyd says, and CF-18s are doing the job they were made for, the same as our Corvettes and our Lancasters did during the 1939-1945 conflict against Hitler and the whole Allied world was proud of them and so was every loyal Canadian.

K.G. Walsh,
Royal Canadian Legion, Br. 636.

A Minden cottager charged last summer with assault with a weapon was granted a conditional discharge.

On June 16, a group of people were gathered around a campfire at Bert D. Smith's cottage, said Crown Attorney Bagg.

Smith, 26, and another man began arguing about snowmobiles and trail bikes. Smith told the man to leave the property, and later hit him with a lawnchair, said Bagg. The man then left in a boat.

Smith's defence lawyer said the people at the gathering were all friends and relatives, and that the victim was a friend of Smith's cousin. "It appears drinking was the problem of the evening," the lawyer added.

Judge Inrig granted the conditional discharge, and placed Smith on one year probation.

Heart Stolen

An 18-year-old pleaded guilty to stealing an audio cassette tape from Video City in Haliburton.

In the courts

A security system alarm was activated as James Arthur Newbatt was leaving the store on February 4, 1991.

A tape by the group Heart was found up Newbatt's sleeve. The tape was worth $12.99.

Judge Inrig fined Newbatt $150, and added a $35 surcharge.

Snowmobiler drunk

A man who snowmobiled in front of his Stanhope home while drunk was fined $300.

Minden OPP Constable Brattengeier spotted Gerald Edward Packard, 47, who was driving a snowmobile on the roadway in front of his home.

Packard, who doesn't have a licence, was known by the officer, who got another call and couldn't stop.

Constable Brattengeier later returned, and noted the odour of alcohol on Packard's breath. Two breathalyzer tests determined the man had 112 and 110 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood. The legal limit is 80 mg.

Packard, who has no previous record, was fined the minimum $300 and is prohibited from obtaining a driver's licence to operate a motor vehicle for one year.

Fine for PineStone argument

A 22-year-old man must pay a total $500 fine and $26.99 restitution for mischief under $1,000, causing a disturbance while drunk, and breach of probation.

Last May 22, Jamie S. Barnum, of St. Thomas, was charged with causing a disturbance while being drunk for arguing with an employee of the PineStone Inn after he and two friends were cut off from the bar.

On August 7, Barnum was caught by police after smashing a window at the OPP sub-office on Maple Street in Dysart.

Barnum had fled into the nearby village park, and was found with blood all over his right hand.

The damaged window, which cost $26.99 to replace, was also covered with fresh blood.

At the time of these offences, Barnum was on probation for charges of mischief, and possession of stolen property. He also has a 1987 conviction in London for theft under $1,000, said Crown Attorney Bagg.

Bagg asked Judge Inrig to order Barnum to stay out of Haliburton County, to keep him away from friends whom the Crown Attorney called a bad influence.

Defence lawyer Karen Johnston argued that Barnum should be allowed to return because his parents own a cottage in Haliburton.

Johnston said Barnum had been living in Haliburton County for three years at the time of the incidents, but now resides with his parents at St. Thomas, near London.

Judge Inrig fined Barnum $150 for causing a disturbance, $100 for mischief, and $200 plus a $50 surcharge for breach of probation.

He ordered Barnum to one year probation, with conditions which include that he must not consume alcohol; must stay off of licenced premises; and stay out of Haliburton County, unless he's with his parents.

The judge also offered a word of warning to Barnum regarding these probation conditions. "If you don't abide, and it comes before Judge Phillips in St. Thomas, then you're in trouble," he said.

Probation for domestic dispute

A Minden man faces one year probation for grabbing his common-law wife and throwing her on the floor after losing his temper during an argument.

The incident occurred on December 30, 1990. Crown Attorney Bagg told the court the 30-year-old man grabbed the woman's right arm, put one arm around her neck, and threw her to the floor.

After the incident, the woman left the couple's home and stayed with friends.

Judge Inrig asked if the man was drunk during the incident, but the man denied using any alcohol around that time. "Then why did you do it?" asked the judge.

"Sir, I work seven days a week, and she's accusing me of running around town," the man said.

Judge Inrig ordered the man to attend a spousal abuse program as one of the terms of his probation. He also told the man to keep the peace and be of good behaviour toward his common-law wife.

Cheques for lodge bounced

A Bradford woman who paid for $762 worth of goods and services at Chateau

Woodlands with cheques from a defunct bank account last summer pleaded guilty to fraudulently obtaining accommodations.

Between July 3 and 7, Janice McGuigan stayed at the Lake Kashagawigamog lodge with her husband and children.

McGuigan, 27, wrote two cheques to pay for lodgings and a $183.75 bar bill, but the cheques were found to be from an account with insufficient funds.

Someone from the lodge later contacted

McGuigan, who wrote a third cheque for $762 on August 15, but this also bounced. "And that's where the police became involved," said Crown Attorney Bagg.

David Shapiera acted as duty counsel, and pointed out that McGuigan has no previous record. "She was having financial difficulties at the time."

Shapiera suggested the mother of two be given a conditional discharge. She's on a disability pension, and is trying to make restitution.

Judge Inrig expressed concern over the high cost of the bar bill, which was $183.75 over a period of five days. "Is there an alcohol problem here?" he asked.

McGuigan denied any problem with alcohol.

Judge Inrig granted the conditional discharge, and put McGuigan on one year probation. McGuigan must also take counselling for financial management, and make restitution within 30 days.

false. Pearson will be appearing in Provincial Court Minden, April 5.

Criminal Charges

Dwayne McKnight, 19, of Minden has been charged three counts of breach of probation, 17 counts of false pretences, two counts of break, enter and theft, one count of theft of an automobile and two counts of possession of stolen property. The charges stem from a mini crime wave that hit Minden last week. The investigation is continuing. McKnight has been kept in custody at a bail hearing held in Lindsay, March 4.

Injury Accidents

Three people were injured in a two-vehicle accident on Hwy. 118 at the Bobcaygeon Road on Wednesday, February 27. Sean Smith, 19, of Huntsville and his two passengers were injured and taken to hospitals in Minden and Haliburton. The driver of the other vehicle, Keith Craig, 51, of Weston was not injured. Icy roads are blamed for this accident. David MacDonald, 38, of Dorset received minor injuries when he drove into the back of a parked car on the Nordic Inn Road, Tuesday, February 26. MacDonald has been charged with careless driving.

Questionable Sales Practices

Business persons and consumers alike should beware of those "too good to be true" deals. They usually are. Recently our county has been inundated with phone calls from the Maple Leaf Trading Company from Montreal, Quebec. Using high pressure telephone sales tactics they indicate a "prize" has been won, on into the conversation it is discovered that to get this prize one must purchase a quantity of engraved pens. The sales rep requests a card number to make it easier for the buyer. If no card number is available they ask for certified cheque or money order. Nothing will be received from this company until the money is sent. The quality of this product is questionable and to qualify for the prize more money is asked for.

Do not give in to "high pressure telephone sales" and do not give your credit card number over the phone.

Men's league hockey play-offs continue tonight at the Minden Arena

Three-way tie is possible

Minden men's league will play final games in round robin series

A potential three-way tie for second spot in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League could be in the offing. With just one game to play in the round robin series, three teams could be log-jammed in second place after the dust settles Monday night.

The power of the Home Hardware team has secured a spot in the play-offs. With a record of 4-0 they are assured of a berth in the final series. Sid Stamp Fuels, in second place, with a record of 3-1 has the potential of catching Home Hardware, however, since the two teams will be facing each other tonight (Monday) for the final game in the series, the best Sid Stamp could do is tie Home in the win/loss columns.

If Home is victorious tonight, and Westside Jug City and The Times win their games, an interesting three-way tie for second place and the final play-off spot will occur. If it does happen, a tally of goals scored, less goals against during the entire round robin, will be used to determine the second place finisher and the team to advance to the finals against Home.

So at least four of the six teams are still in contention as the last game of the round robin series begins tonight at the Minden Arena. On tonight's schedule, Home Hardware and Sid Stamp Fuels face each other in the first match. The Times goes up against Rockcliffe Tavern and will play the second contest, and Hartwick Construction takes on Westside Jug City in the late night encounter.

Looking at the action from last week, Home Hardware took Jug City in a close 2-1 match. The Times bombed Hartwick 13-4, and Sid Stamp Fuels defeated Rockcliffe 7-4.

Both Home Hardware and Jug City scored in the opening period of their game. Jeff Stamp connected on a pass from Barry Boice and Kevin Hamilton. Bart Hilhorst responded for Jug City, with the assist going to Mike Keaney.

The same Home Hardware line put the game on ice when Hamilton connected and Boice and Stamp picked up the assists. Home was able to hang onto that slim lead, despite some stiff offensive play from the Westside squad. The victory preserved the team's play-off undefeated string, and guaranteed their spot in the league's play-off finals.

The Times once again demonstrated their skills at waiting until the third period before pulling the game out of the bag. In the opening frame, Hartwick Construction grabbed three quick goals to secure a commanding lead. Credit goes to Eldon Bull from Scott Hamilton on the first, Hamilton from Kevin Mills and Wayne Dickenson on the second and Scott Dobie, unassisted.

The Times whittled away at the lead and managed two goals in the second frame. Both goals were scored by Scott Nesbitt with assists on the first to Doug Allison and Jim Crawford, and Greg Newell getting the nod on the second.

Of late, the third period belonged to The Times and last Monday was no exception. The team scored 11 goals in the final 20 minutes of play and secured their second win of the series. Hartwick managed only one more marker before the period closed. The Hartwick goal was scored by Dickenson with Hamilton and Bull getting the assist. Scoring for The Times were Andy Campbell with four goals, one unassisted, Scott Nesbitt with three, to bring his game total to five goals. George Crofts with a pair and single from Crawford and Allison.

The Rockcliffe-Sid Stamp match was a somewhat closer affair with teams trading goals throughout most of the game. A four goal flurry in the second period, however, gave the gasoline boys the edge and the victory.

Both teams scored a single in the first period. Scott Gartshore opened the scoring for Rockcliffe on a pass from Jeff Howe and Ron Perrin. Stamp Fuels responded with a goal from Ivan Ingram with assist to Brian Shaw.

Craig Crowe scored for Sid Stamp in the third period with the assist going to Corey Walker and Ron Telford. Responding for the Rockcliffe was Jeff Howe, from Joe Graham and Jason Stamp. A trio of goals from the Stamp sticks followed to give the team the lead and eventually the game. Scoring were: Glen Hall from Craig Crowe and Walker, Ingram from Brian Shaw and Crowe, and Shaw from Crowe and Walker.

Rockcliffe attempted to regain the upper hand in the third period with two goals from Howe, one unassisted and the other with the help of Gartshore and Sid McKeigan. However, the Stamp team matched the two goals and retained the three goal edge. Scoring were Crowe from Ingram and Shaw and Ingram from Bruce Deniston and Hall.

The final games in the round robin series are played tonight at the arena. Game time is 7 p.m.

Haliburton trounced by Pee Wees with 13-1 victory

Minden Tri-County Pee Wees hosted Haliburton in the ninth playoff game, Tuesday evening, March 5, at the Minden arena. After a tough game against Woodville Monday evening, Minden got away to a slow start in the first period, but ran away with it in the second and third periods.

Bobbi Griffin notched a hat trick and four assists for seven points in the game. Andrew Crego had another spectacular four goal performance, plus an assist. Marty Dettman played a strong game with a five point night, two goals and three assists.

Duane Lennie, Times goalie, blocks a shot by a Hartwick forward. The Times team trounced the opposition, 13-4. The fifth and last games in the Men's Recreational Hockey League round robin series will be played tonight at the Minden Arena.

Local figure skaters' skills will be displayed at show

This year the Minden Skating Club is doing a different twist to the end of the skating season.

Bev Matyssek and Leitha Grexton have been busy organizing a "pop" concert.

This will be a display of the skaters skills from the pre-beginners up to proficiency badges. The routine will be choreographed by one or two amateur coaches or assistants, thus showing off everyone's talent to date.

The test program will be doing their choice of skating from solos, pairs, dance routine, interpreting music and a complete participation in a skating routine.

To do all of these skills takes a lot of time, practice and dedication from the youngest skater and up to the highest level of test program.

The Minden Skating Club will present this to you with our thanks, going out to the parents, grandparents, and all of our generous sponsors for this, on March 24 at 2 p.m. with a free admission.

Please join us with lots of encouragement for all of our local skaters.

Minden Novices win over Bobcaygeon, Fenelon, Ops

On Saturday, March 2, the Minden Novice Kings travelled the distance to Manvers to participate in their tournament.

Our first game was with Bobcaygeon which was end to end action from start to finish. In the first period, the only goal was scored by Bobcaygeon. During the second period, Cameron Neville gave our team two perfect goals, both unassisted. Then, during the third period, it was Cameron Neville again being assisted by Brian Doyle. This gave us a final victory of 3-2.

Our second game of the day was with Fenelon Falls which was definitely filled with lots of action from both teams. At the end of the first period it was tied 2-2 with goals being once again scored by Cameron Neville with assists by Brandon Bonner and Ryan Lydiatt, Jonathon Horsely and Brian Doyle. The second period saw Fenelon take the lead by making the score 3-2. When the third period started, our boys were ready and eager. Cameron Neville made Minden get back in the game with assist going to Jonathon Horsely and Brandon Bonner. Then at the 5:01 mark Fenelon Falls took the lead again. Cameron Neville was not long letting our opponents feel victory by getting another goal at the 4:59 mark, unassisted.

This then put us into an overtime situation being a removal of one player per minute and who else but Cameron Neville leading us to victory. Way to go, Cam!

Our final game for the championship was with Ops. Our outstanding defencemen of Brandon Bonner, Ryan Lydiatt and Curtis Danilko kept us in the game. By the middle of the second period we were down two goals. Then Cameron once again started things going with a goal assisted by Brian Doyle. Then Rich Kinsman tied things up with a pass from Ashley Pettes. Cameron then gave us a lead with assists going to Andy Kinsman and Brandon Bonner.

In the third period Cameron Neville put in his third goal of the game and his eleventh of the day, assisted by Jonathon Horsely and Brandon Bonner. With less than two minutes left, Andy Kinsman made the most of a pass from brother Rich Kinsman and Ashley Pettes. The final score being 5-3.

Our championship was made possible because of the team effort by all the players.

Phillip Neville's goal-tending abilities throughout the entire day was also a major factor in Minden's victory.

Well done guys! A special thanks to our coach Bryan Neville and his assistant, Jay Horsely.

Tie with Woodville leaves Pee Wees one point out of first in playoffs

Todd Redgrave opened the scoring at 4:53 of the first period, assisted by Arron Belton and Bobbi Griffin. Andrew Crego made it 2-0 at 1:18, assisted by Bobbi Griffin and Benji Crego. Haliburton made it 2-1 with only 40 seconds left in the first period.

In the second period Minden scored four unanswered goals. At 9:22 Andrew Crego took a pass from Todd Redgrave to blast it by the Haliburton goalie. At 7:59 Bobbi Griffin found the twin to make it 4-1 for Minden. Todd Redgrave scored again 32 seconds later on an unassisted effort. Marty Dettman made it 6-1 for Minden to close out the second period scoring with Arron Belton and Andrew Crego drawing the assists.

The third period saw Marty Dettman buzzing around the Haliburton net to score at 14:28 with Travis Willison assisting. Arron Belton scored a beautiful goal at 10:41 while falling, after being checked. Todd Redgrave picked up the assist. Minden scored again 25 seconds later with Andrew Crego hammering it home, on assists by Marty Dettman and Bobbi Griffin. Bobbi Griffin scored again at 5:23 unassisted. She then notched her hat trick at 3:09 after taking a pass from Marty Dettman. That made it 12-1 for Minden.

With 1:20 left in the game, Todd Redgrave skated in alone to deke the Haliburton goalie and score his hat trick, and his 50th goal of the season.

Minden Tri-County Pee Wees did battle with Woodville Monday evening, March 4. After losing the previous Saturday 8-4, Minden needed this game to take over 1st place in the playoff standings. Woodville opened the scoring at 7:48 of the first period. Twelve seconds later, at 7:36, Andrew Crego pulled Minden even with a shot that eluded the Woodville goalie after dropping from his catching glove. That was the scoring for the game.

Both goalies came up big for shutout hockey for two periods.

Arron Belton came so close to scoring the winner in the dying seconds. Marty Dettman sent Todd Redgrave away, and Todd laid a pass onto Arron's stick and Arron just missed the corner before the final whistle, to end a very exciting hockey game. The tie left Minden one point out of first in the playoffs.

Tax Tips for your 1990 Return

"Why should I file a tax return if I don't owe anything?"

Revenue Canada doesn't just collect taxes, it also delivers federal and provincial credits you could benefit from, including the goods and services tax credit, the child tax credit, and this year, for the last time, the federal sales tax credit. But if you don't file a tax return because you don't owe any taxes, you could miss out.

Is tax filing easier this year?

Revenue Canada has introduced new measures to simplify the tax filing process. The guides use clearer, plainer language, the Special return has been trimmed down and there are two new "no calculation" returns. The one-page, gold 65 Plus return is for seniors with income from pensions or interest. The white Short return is for people, like students, with simpler tax situations. If you choose one of the "no calculation" returns, we'll do all the calculations, including any federal or provincial credits you may be eligible for.

Got some tips?

First, look in the Guide that comes in your tax package. It gives you step-by-step instructions and helpful tax tips. Read the explanations for the lines that apply to you, and ignore those that don't. If your income situation hasn't changed much from last year, you can use last year's return as a reference.

What if I have questions?

If you can't find the answers in the Guide, you can call the people at Revenue Canada. The best times to get through are before 10:00 a.m. and after 2:00 p.m. From February 25 through April 30, Revenue Canada's phone hours are extended to 8:00 p.m., Monday to Thursday. There's also an automated phone service called T.I.P.S., for answers to common questions. For a complete list of services and phone numbers in your region, see your Guide.

What other services are available?

You can visit Seasonal Tax Assistance Centres in convenient locations, like shopping malls, for information, guides and forms. See your local newspaper for times and locations. There's also a video called "Stepping Through Your Tax Return" that you can borrow from public libraries or your district taxation office.

Anything I should watch for?

Make sure all the personal information printed on your return is correct, especially your address. Before you start, make sure you have all your receipts and information slips. Check your calculations, and attach all the information that's asked for in the return. These steps will help avoid delays in getting your refund.

If I move, will I still get my cheque?

If you're moving, call or write Revenue Canada with your new address, so we can make sure your cheque gets to you. If you have more questions, talk to the people at Revenue Canada Taxation. They're People with Answers.

Trio sentenced for Haliburton incident

Man faces three years for sexual assault

Sentencing has been handed down to three individuals involved in a sexual assault against a Haliburton woman.

The victim, who may not be identified, was drinking with the three accused before the incident occurred in the early hours of September 29.

Shawn Everett Easton, 21, of Orillia, was sentenced to three years in jail for aggravated sexual assault, and 18 months for forcible confinement. He pleaded guilty to both charges, says Minden OPP Constable Mike Maybee.

Easton, a former Haliburton resident, had already pleaded guilty to assault causing bodily harm on January 8, and was sentenced to eight months for this charge, says Constable Maybee.

On January 31, Ronald Jamie Pearson, 18, of Haliburton, pleaded guilty to assault causing bodily harm, and forcible confinement. Pearson was sentenced to one year in jail, with three years probation, said Maybee.

His sister, 20-year-old Jennifer Pearson, pleaded guilty to assault causing bodily harm, and attempting to obstruct justice. On February 10, she was given three years probation, and ordered to perform 75 hours of community service.

Later, Pearson was charged with breaching this probation and public mischief after an allegation she made on February 14 turned out to be totally false.

Novice A team starts playoffs

The Tri-County Novice "A" team has started their playoffs. The first scheduled game was in Uxbridge on the 3rd but, unfortunately, due to the weather the game was cancelled.

On the 6th the team travelled to Ops for their first game. In the absence of Michael Hamilton, a few of the positions had to be changed, but the boys went with a positive feeling. Everyone on the team was determined to try their best and it showed as they tied with Ops, a team they have been unable to beat in the regular season. The final score was 0-0. This was one of the most exciting games the boys played all year. Those tough practices that Barry and Andy put them through have paid off.

Three Minden figure skaters will go to All Ontario Championships

by Nancy Garbutt

Four members of the Minden Skating Club represented us at the Eastern Ontario Interclub Sectional Championships in Belleville on March 2 and 3. The four earned the honor to compete in this event by placing first or second in their events at the Kawartha Highlands Interclub Competition in Lakefield on February 17.

At E.O.S.I.C., 98 clubs are represented by 12 Interclubs. Following are the results of the meet. Tristan Pawluch placed 3rd in Pre-preliminary men, Tristan Pawluch and Julie Vanderlip placed 3rd in Pre-preliminary Mixed Dance, Janene Garbutt placed 6th in Bronze "A" Artistic and Lisa Carr placed 1st in Bronze "B" Artistic.

The top three skaters in each event (except for pre-preliminary freeski) advance to The All Ontario Interclub Championships. This is the first year we have had skaters at All Ontario. This event is being hosted this year by the Bowmanville Skating Club, on March 16 and 17. Tristan and Julie are skating at 2:45 p.m., Saturday, and Lisa's category is on at 9 p.m. Hopefully we will have a rooting section for them.

If you are in the area over that weekend, please pop in and cheer our young skaters on. This is certainly an important and exciting step-up for our club.

Congratulations to our four skaters who competed at E.O.S.I.C. on their excellent results and good luck to Lisa, Tristan and Julie at All Ontario. We are very proud of each and everyone of you.

Cadets treat grisly gashes and other fake injuries to earn first aid certificates

by Susan Grober

They were prepared for anything.

A nail in the eye, a scalded leg, a finger chopped off by an axe.

These were just a few of the injuries tended to by members of the 1129 Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps at the Minden Legion last Monday night.

But don't be alarmed, the injuries were all part of a first aid training examination. The cadets had spent the previous weekend learning the skills of bandaging wounds and tending to the ill and injured and Dr. Stephen Dawson was on hand to perform the practical testing.

So all the broken bones and aches and pains were fake. Well, all but one.

During one test, Crystal Perrin was instructed by Dr. Dawson to lower her partner down onto the floor. "He said, 'For this injury, you're going to hurt your back,'" said Crystal.

As Crystal lowered the other girl, she felt something in her spine pull. "I whispered to my partner, 'I hurt my back... Don't giggle, it's for real'."

Crystal's partner had to convince her to speak up about the mishap. "I didn't want to say anything," said Crystal. "I just thought, 'I want to pass this thing'."

It was certainly a convenient time and place for a person to get injured. Bandages, slings and splints were scattered throughout the room, and most of the cadets had a thorough knowledge of what first aid was necessary before help could be found.

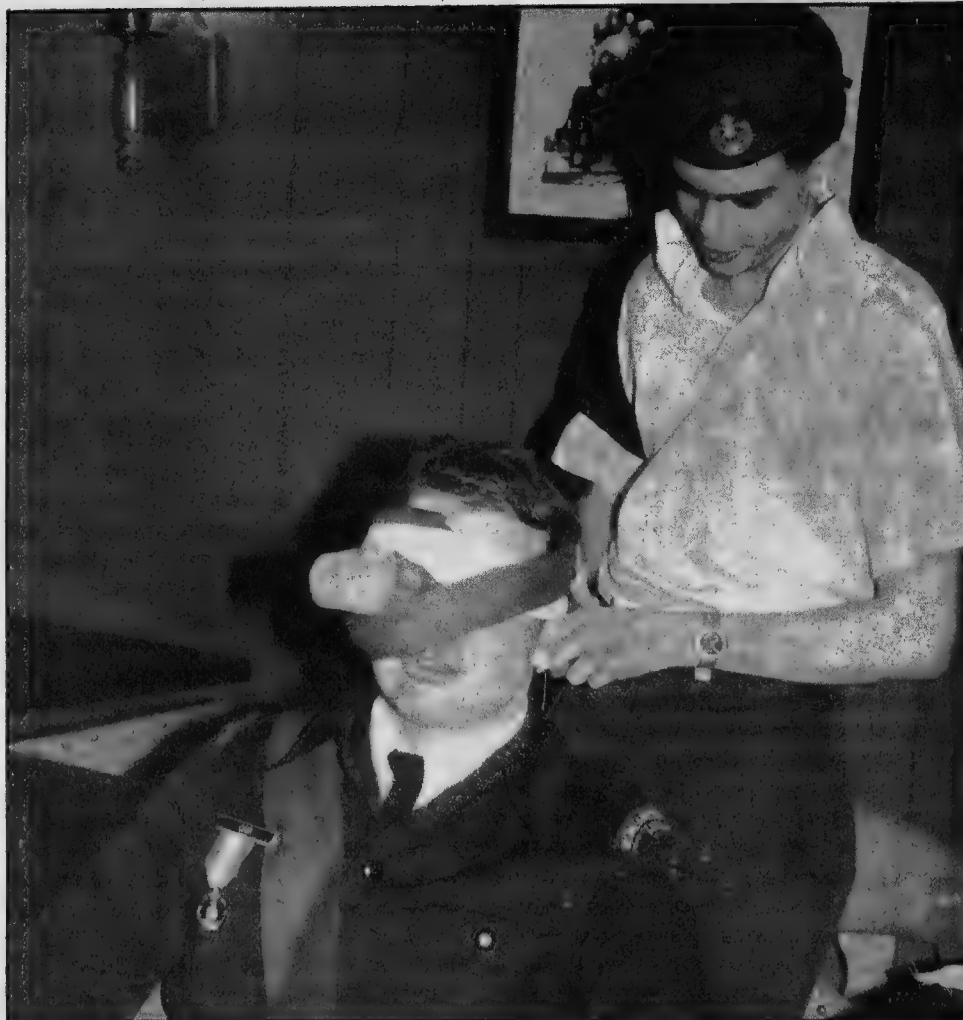

After Dr. Dawson examined Crystal, the girl's partner ran downstairs to fill a large, olive green bandage with ice to ease the back injury.

The fake injuries, however, were decidedly more dramatic.

Charles Clarke sliced up his head and ripped out his guts on jagged pieces of glass after flying through a windshield. Ed Armstrong bound Charles' stomach to prevent any more guts from spilling out.

Jeremy MacDuff bandaged Chris Dair's

Minden's Natural Resources office will be down-graded

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

A re-organization of the Ministry of Natural Resources will result in the Minden operation being down-graded from a district office to an area office.

The changes, which will be phased in by 1992, will reduce the number of regions from eight to four and the number of districts from 47 to 27. Minden will be one of 23 newly designated area offices.

Reg Raby, acting manager for the Minden office, says the re-organization will not result in any dramatic changes in local ministry operations. The amount of staff at the Minden office will not be decreased, and Raby says the number might even increase.

Under the new system, the four regions of the province are; the Boreal West Region, located in north-west Ontario with regional offices in Thunder Bay; Boreal East Region with regional offices in Cochrane and Timmins; Great Lakes Region, with regional offices in Huntsville; and the Southern Region, will regional offices in Aurora.

The Minden office is in the Great Lakes Region and will report to the district office in Bancroft.

As an area office, the Minden branch will focus on program delivery, customer service and public involvement. The area office will also manage local issues and be an important part of the process of integrating planning and operations, according to a ministry press release.

Raby said there won't be many changes at the Minden office until September and then will be phased in over a 16 month period.

Some of the accounting and supervisory work currently performed at the Minden office will be moving to the district office at Bancroft.

"The end result will be enhanced service to the public," said Raby.

Facing first aid fiascos entire head — it seemed Chris had a nail protruding from his eye, and any light would aggravate the extreme pain.

Donald Mawbey performed the Heimlich manoeuvre on choking victim Richard Aschenbrenner.

Tanya Allaire had her finger chopped off. Lee Perrin collided with a door and smashed his elbow, which was tended to by Randy Smith. Richard Whiten tied ice to Steven Smith's head to relieve his heatstroke.

And Kyle Cox bound two pieces of wood on Krista Vick's arm, which she broke on the trampoline.

Commanding Officer, Captain Denis Allaire said the corps spent the previous Saturday and Sunday at the Haliburton Legion for two full days of training.

Because they spent the Saturday night at the legion, the cadets brought in four television sets, three VCRs, "umpteens" ghetto blasters, pop, pizza and Nintendo, said Allaire.

On Sunday afternoon, the cadets wrote an examination. The training was again put to the test when Dr. Dawson provided two hours worth of made-up injuries for the cadets to act out.

Allaire said the male cadets in particular relished discussing the gruesome acts which they were required to act out.

Words such as, "Oh yeah, guts hanging out! Big, green, slimy ones," were heard throughout the legion hall.

"This is the biggest charge of all the trips," said Allaire. "They really get into it."

The entire event was organized by Warrant Officer Jason Donaldson, who Allaire said did a splendid job. "He even assigns me my classes, and assigns me training," said Allaire.

Each of the 19 cadets passed, and earned the Certificate for Emergency First Aid from St. John's Ambulance.

As for Crystal Perrin, she may not have earned extra credit for her injury, but she certainly deserved kudos for authenticity.

ATTENTION SUBSCRIBERS!

Several weeks ago we announced that due to a massive increase in postal rates for second class delivery (the rate under which The Times is mailed) we were being forced to increase our rates for subscriptions sent to readers beyond 65 kilometres of Minden. The post office had announced new rates which for this newspaper, would amount to about a 600% increase in mailing costs. To counter that, we introduced a $20 postal surcharge on all subscriptions mailed to Canadian destinations, outside a 65 kilometre radius of Minden.

The Times, and the federal and provincial community newspaper associations, have been involved in a concerted lobbying effort aimed at convincing the federal government to delay the increase to give the weekly newspapers of the country time to adjust to the new rate structure. We also invited our subscribers to write to their Members of Parliament to protest the increases. Many of you responded and your help is greatly appreciated.

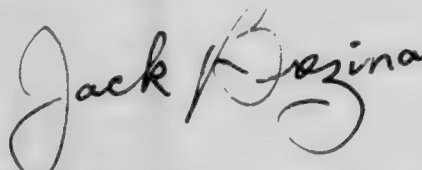

It also obviously worked! On February 28, the day before the new postal rates were to come into effect, the federal Cabinet met. Rather than rubber stamping the increased postal rates, the federal government agreed to delay the introduction of the new rates for at least another three months. At this point, the new rates are scheduled to come into effect on June 1, 1991.

As a result of this announcement, The Times has withdrawn the postal surcharge for the moment. Subscription rates will not change from those set at the beginning of December 1990. However, if the postal rate increase comes into effect at the beginning of June, as announced by the federal government, the postal surcharge will be re-instated. As well, because of the uncertainty created by this situation, The Times will only accept renewals for a one year period, for the current year, or new subscriptions for one year only, at the current rate structure. As we announced earlier, we will honour all multi-year subscriptions purchased in the past.

The Times appreciates the support of its readers in contacting the federal MPs to protest this rate hike. This newspaper, and others across the country through their associations, will continue to press the federal government to reconsider the introduction of this massive postal rate increase. By continuing the pressure we hope to convince the authorities to reduce, delay or cancel this action.

Again, thank you for your support. We will continue to keep our readers informed on this issue.

Yours truly,

Jack Brezina,
Publisher.

Cottage sales may rise out of slump, says realtor

by Susan Grober

Those feeling hard-hit by the recession will be relieved to hear there will be an upswing in cottage sales this summer.

That's the message from Fred Gardiner of Dale Austin Realty in Minden, who recently took part in The Cottage Show at the Metro East Trade Centre in Pickering.

"Certainly the indication we got is people are interesting in purchasing cottage properties," says Gardiner. "It surprised us very much."

The show began at noon on Friday, Feb. 1, and a lineup of people were outside waiting for the doors to open. "Our booth was busy and full of people until 10 o'clock that night," says Gardiner.

The three representatives from Austin Realty brought 500 brochures, expecting to bring a stack of them back home. They were wrong, however.

By noon on Saturday, they ran out of brochures. The group had 1,000 more printed up, and of those only 200 were left by the end of the weekend.

"The people there were genuinely interested in buying," says Gardiner, who adds that each of the 24,000 people attending had to pay $6 to get into the show.

"And each of us at our booth came back with appointments," Gardiner says happily. "We were very surprised at what seemed a very positive interest. We haven't seen that in this market for awhile."

Gardiner is looking forward to the warmer months, when the potential cottage buyers will find the opportunity to visit the area.

"Nearly all the people we spoke to had some interest," he says. "It certainly was a spark of light, and it looks good for this year's market."

There weren't many sales last year, so Gardiner is quite excited by this turnaround.

"I don't know what it is that gets consumer confidence back," says Gardiner.

"Interest rates have gone down. And then a lot of people are unemployed, or facing lay-offs."

But, "Through history, people have still bought the toys," he says.

The Cottage Show was a first, and Gardiner said he was told by the management that many companies tried to put in booths after seeing the great turnout on the Friday.

Along with real estate companies promoting cottage areas, the show featured booths with items such as docks and pumps for those who already have cottages.

And Gardiner agrees the show was a definite success. "In the first two or three hours, we spoke to more serious people than at a whole week at the Sportsmen's Show."

Lutterworth won't spend tax dollars to promote endless awareness weeks

The hard-earned dollars of Lutterworth taxpayers won't be used toward the promotion of various awareness weeks.

At last Tuesday's meeting, Lutterworth Township Council decided against paying for an advertisement to recognize Building Regulations Awareness Week, which runs April 7 to 15.

"I have no problem promoting it, but I won't spend tax dollars advertising it," said Reeve Carol Puffer.

Puffer said she has no problem with the idea of putting a sign in the township office to promote such causes, "but it would be a waste of money to advertise all proclaimed weeks," she said.

3 Out of 10 Canadian Students Drop Out... And We All Pay The Price.

! Every year, 3 out of 10 Canadian students drop out before finishing high school... And they realize all too soon that it isn't as easy as they thought.

The fact is, over the next few years, the majority of new jobs will require a high school education as a minimum. Without it, young people simply won't have the choices, the opportunities or freedom they're looking for.

When 30% drop out...over 100,000 students a year...it affects everyone - parents, educators, employers, Canadian society as a whole.

Making sure that young people stay in school is important for all of us...and more important today than ever before.

Dropping out is no way out.

Let's do something about it.

Marksman to keep on shooting in Lutterworth

by Susan Grober

No longer gun-shy, Lutterworth Township Council has finally passed a rezoning for a shooting range used by the Haliburton County Marksmen Club.

Council has held off its decision on the rezoning for two years because of an objection from Lurline Trotter. Trotter was asked to reply by March 5, the date of last Tuesday's council meeting. However, council hadn't heard from the woman by that time.

"We can't wait anymore," said Councillor Lisa Mercer. "We gave her a date to read the agreement and get back to us by, and I think we have to get on with the rezoning."

The draft zoning bylaw amendment was originally circulated for comment in April of 1989, said Reeve Carol Puffer.

The property is leased by the club from the municipality. The shooting range is located on a small portion of a sand pit along the Iron Mine Road, off of Highway 121.

Since the entire property is zoned extractive industrial (M2), the club arranged for a site specific rezoning to recreational (RE2), which allows for a shooting range.

Trotter, who owns nearby property, was the only person to object to the rezoning.

Last month, she told council the guns can be heard from her property, which is located about two miles from the shooting range.

She also said she's seen men with guns walking along the road. Council told her such actions are unlawful and must be dealt with by the police, not the municipality.

Last Tuesday, Councillor Bill Valentine said you don't have to live near a shooting range to find people with guns. "We get idiots down where we are all the time," he said.

"These guys shoot squirrels and robins," he added. "Once they get north of Markham, they think the land belongs to God and they can do whatever they want."

Because they've heard no response from Trotter by the specified time, council members unanimously agreed to the rezoning.

"If she objects, she can go to the OMB (Ontario Municipal Board)," said Puffer. "We can't hold this in abeyance forever."

Trotter was given the March 5 deadline because the municipality has had difficulty contacting her since she first made an objection to the rezoning.

As Deputy-Reeve Jim McMahon said, "She lives half her time in London, Ont.,

and half her time in the (Lutterworth) Pines."

Puffer told The Times council had no choice but to accept the rezoning application, which fulfilled the municipality's guidelines.

"This has been going on for almost two years," she said. "Every effort was made by the Marksmen Club to sit down and resolve this. This can't be left hanging forever."

Already, the club has been waiting for a two-year period. "That's a long time for the wheels to be slowly moving," said Puffer.

If council didn't approve the rezoning, the representatives of the Marksmen Club could have taken the municipality to the Ontario Municipal Board, said Puffer.

Club President Ron Coleman is relieved

Man fined for terrorizing boaters, banned from local lakes

by Susan Grober

A Haliburton Lake cottager who "terrorized" two people in a boat has been found guilty of dangerous operation of a vessel.

After a trial earlier this month, Daniel A. Turpin, 33, was fined $400 plus a $60 victim surcharge, and prohibited from operating a vessel in Haliburton County for six months.

"It troubles me that that kind of conduct is going on," said Judge Sidney Lindon. "It shouldn't be encouraged or condoned."

On July 21, 1990, Turpin was in his 200 hp sport boat as he approached a similar boat of another Haliburton Lake cottager, 36-year-old Norman Lyons.

According to Lyons, who had a passenger in his boat, Turpin's boat sped past about four or five feet away at 50 km an hour. "It rocked us back and forth a bit, and spray blew back in our faces. I just kept going."

Lyons said his boat was moving at about five km an hour at the time.

He said Turpin then drove his boat back and forth, between eight to 10 times. "He came back again, 20 feet from the boat at a high rate of speed," said Lyons. "He was basically paralleling."

Lyons said he and his passenger, Berta Aguiar, were traveling slowly in the South Bay area of the lake when Turpin approached them again.

"He had this crazed look on his face," Lyons said of Turpin. "He said, 'Why don't you ditch your partner and race like a man?'"

In considering the three contacts between the boats, Judge Lindon decided Turpin was guilty of dangerous operation "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Turpin has a previous criminal record which includes: uttering threats and obstructing a police officer in Toronto in 1975; attempt of theft in Whitby in 1980; impaired driving, break, enter and theft, and failure to appear in court in Whitby the following year; and criminal negligence of a motor vehicle in Toronto in 1982.

Judge Lindon warned Turpin to behave in the future. "The slightest transgression could have serious consequences because of your record."

Zoning delay puts preparations on hold for Marksmen Club to hear the matter has finally been settled.

Preparations for the upcoming season have been postponed until club members learned whether the lease would be renewed, and the rezoning approved.

"Everything's backed up," says Coleman. "We have dozens of permits to be sent to the OPP in Toronto, and we have to send some of our guys out on courses for safety."

"We only have the summer months for our shooting schedule, and that's all been put on hold."

The club, which has been using the property since 1984, last year had 92 members who practiced shooting handguns, rifles and shotguns.

A shooting range for handguns features 40 silhouette targets, each made of iron. Those who go through this course shoot at 10 "little duckies" at 25 yards, 10 "little piggies" at 50 yards, 10 turkeys at 75 yards, and 10 rams at 100 yards, says Coleman.

There are also paper targets for rifle shoots, and a skeet trap for shotguns. And Coleman says the club plans to introduce archery this year.

Coleman says the two-year wait for the rezoning, which was requested by the municipality, has been a hassle. And he doesn't understand Lurline Trotter's complaints.

The property she owns is two miles north of the range, and uninhabited, says Coleman. There is no hydro, and no phone.

Also, Coleman says he's not surprised to hear Trotter has seen people in the area with guns. "That's bush country," he says. "There's a hunting camp just north of her."

Books help you ham it up on radio

by Joel Levis,
Haliburton County
Public Library.

One of the fastest growing hobbies in the world today is amateur (or HAM) radio. You may have become aware of them and their activities as part of the coverage of the recent conflict in the Persian Gulf.

Recent changes in the law have made getting a licence easier than ever before but if you want to get an introductory feel for what you may be getting in to, this book may be just the thing for you.

The ARRL Operating Manual originates with the American Radio Relay League who have been publishing procedures and technical manuals for many years and quite frankly, know what they are talking about.

And while you may feel that getting "on the air" is as simple as getting an antenna up and plugging in a "rig" (as they say) as a hobby there is considerably more to it than that.

Chapters covered include shortwave listening with considerable attention being paid to the radio spectrum itself, basic operating techniques and how best to orientate the antenna. Included are contests, RTTY communications, FM and repeaters and everything else that you may have wanted to know but were too afraid to ask.

This new Manual join the Handbook and Antenna Handbook already in the library system as the tools that will provide you with the best possible introduction to the world of radio. All are available at or through your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library and many more are available on InterLibrary Loan.

Come to your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library and see how things have changed for you!

Club 35 Euchre March 4

50-50 - John Klok, most lone hands - Ellen Klok, high lady - Betty Culley, high man - Harold Culley, others - Thelda Weston, Cliff Woolner and Harold Culley.

March 1st was the World Day of Prayer, hosted by Minden United Church at Hyland Crest auditorium with over 75 in attendance. Music was sung by Reverend Moll. The theme was "On the journey together" with a special speaker June DeVolin. There were readers from United Church, Our Lady of Fatima and St.

Paul's Anglican Church. After the service a light lunch by the United Church ladies was enjoyed by all.

Friday, March 1st was an enjoyable day at "The Terrace" with cribbage in the afternoon and the monthly Pot Luck supper. Following the clear-up, all enjoyed the music with Gordon Kidd and a sing-a-long.

Missed the only birthday at Hyland Crest for March, but belated good wishes to Alfred Richardson on his special day.

On Sunday evening, March 3rd, Lochlin United Church congregation gathered for a surprise appreciation supper for Reverend Jim Creighton and his family. Jack Hill expressed thanks for all, to Reverend Jim for his continuing guidance and service. Jim was presented with a dozen golf balls for his summer games.

Wayne Vick of Toronto enjoyed last weekend with his parents Audrey and Bob Vick.

Helen Burk and Jane Symonds spent last weekend at Oshawa and took in the Toronto hockey game on Saturday night.

At the Monday afternoon euchre games at St. Paul's, winners were: Lone hands - Joyce Hewitt, and others - Ruth Menard and Nancy Gayton. Monday, March 18 will feature a lunch at 12 followed by cards and then next games after Easter will be April 8.

The Neil Burks and Bessie Burk were at Harcourt for a birthday party of Abbie Burk last Sunday.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Marjorie Francis and Georg Seuerstein, whose funerals were since last week.

All good wishes to these people: Garth Horsely, Wayne Anderson, Muriel Proctor, Fréda Hulbig, Hilda Andreacuck and Mel Killin who are now home from hospital.

Preliminary lists for Minden Fair, August 16-18, are available at McMahon Feed store, Country Fabrics, Chamber of Commerce, Henderson Insurance (Sears Office), Town and Country Travel and Rails' End Gallery.

Blake Hughes and Rachel, of Mississauga, spent the weekend with his mother, Bertha Hughes.

Friday guests last week with me were my daughter Carol and hubby Reg Leaman of Newmarket.

Clarence and Carol Precoor of Whitby spent the weekend at their summer home.

At the Tuesday, March 5 euchre games at Gelert Hall, winners were: Lone hands - Bruce O'Brien, Lorna Bridgman, Dorothy Milburn, Dorothy McElwain and Chris Hill. Next games there will be on March 19.

Lesley Brydson of Bracebridge was visiting with her grandparents Irene and Bill Moore one day last week.

Paul and Sharon Sisson and girls of Bracebridge, Mildred Hoyle and Ron and Carol Johns of Coburg spent last weekend at their summer home.

Phoned in were: Monday euchres at Galway Hall, 7:30 near Kinmount and Wednesday nights are bingo (chip) at 7:30, also at Galway Hall.

All ladies are invited to come to Women's Institute meeting at Library Cultural Common Room on Wednesday, March 20 at 2 p.m. with a programme and a spelling match.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Residents take part in World Day of Prayer

Today is the 4th of March and winter is still hanging on.

Marian Fisher, who reads to us when she isn't needed at home, was unable to come Saturday, February 23, so Dorie McAllister read to us when she finished her shift in the office. We thank her very much and enjoyed her reading.

Sunday evening Chapel Service was conducted by Reverend John Burgess and Alices Jones played the piano. The residents thank them both for their faithfulness. We have been practicing a new hymn "He Lives" (new to us).

Monday, Evelyn Coleman held Bible Study and we learned about the lives of two ladies, Phoebe and Priscilla, wife of Aquilla.

The Hyland Crest Auxiliary was held in the auditorium, presided over by President, Molly McCarthy.

At 4 p.m. Marian Fisher read to us. She has started another book.

At 7 p.m. Fern Donnelly and Pat Bradburn showed movies in the auditorium: "East West Island", "Between Superior and the Prairies" and "The Conquest Kid Strikes Again". We thank Fern and Pat very much.

February 26 Chapel was held in the morning and Marjory Rennick came for a hymn sing in the afternoon. We enjoyed both and thank them very much.

The last Tea of February was provided by the St. Paul's A.C.W. of Minden and it was birthday tea. Ruby Lewis and Stella Stinson had birthdays during the month and since one of the A.C.W. ladies, Beatrice Berry, had a birthday that day, she was invited to sit in at the birthday table.

The tea was served nicely by Bea Berry, Mary Cox, Beatrice Taylor, Elva Deacon, Edna Taylor and Annie Kernohan. The residents appreciate your efforts and thank you heartily. They also thank Elva Deacon for the music and a few old favourites.

In the evening, we had bingo called by Marg Prentice. Carol Martin intended to help her but was sick that night. We are glad you are better now. Thank you Marg, sincerely.

Wednesday I went to Peterborough with Terry and Norma. I visited with my sister May and Roy. Jacqueline came and we went out for dinner.

Sunday, Reverend Bur-

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

gess informed us Heather Bowen had been taken to the hospital with chest pains. We all wish her a speedy recovery. Her mother, Jean Bowen worked here until recently and Heather sang at chapel service.

Friday was a World Day of Prayer and was held in the auditorium. The program was led by Reverend Parker of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Reverend Moll and his guitar, and Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church.

Those who read parts of the service, alternating with the audience, were Janet Heffer, Julie Grey, Joan Parker, Barbara T., and Barbara Luboweto. The Speaker was Mrs. DeVolin and the country especially mentioned for prayer was Kenya, in Africa. After the service the ladies served a delightful tea. Thanks to all who took part in the service and tea.

When you come to Hyland Crest you will have new song books and new hymn books, thanks to the generosity of the Minden Kinettes. We thank them very much for their gift.

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Lutterworth, proposes to enact a by-law to stop-up, close and convey to the abutting property owner a portion of the original allowance for road set out and described as follows:

FIRSTLY: ALL and singular those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises, situate, lying and being the Township of Lutterworth, in the County of Haliburton and being composed of part of the original sixty-six foot shore road allowance along the shore of Black Lake, lying in front of Part of broken Lot 25, Concession VIII, Township of Lutterworth and being more particularly described for the Registry Division of the County of Haliburton as Plan 19R 5087.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAW will come before the said Council for consideration at its Regular Meeting at the Municipal Office, located 3 miles south of Minden on Highway #35 on the 2nd day of April, 1991, at the hour of 4:15 P.M. and at that time, the Council will hear in person or by his or her counsel, solicitor or agent any person who claims that his or her land will be prejudicially affected and who applies to be heard.

DATED at the Township of Lutterworth this 20th day of February, 1991.

Mary Jane Irwin,
Clerk,
Township of Lutterworth,

Kids' Korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters.

Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

FINAL PUBLIC NOTICE FROST CENTRE SHORELINE REHABILITATION

The Ministry of Natural Resources is proceeding with the proposal to rehabilitate (improve) the shoreline on St. Nora Lake, directly in front of the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Complex. The project will not commence before April 29, 1991, and will be completed in stages with accordance to changing water levels and available resources.

The project is intended to address the following:

- A) The recreational use and other activities which now exist along the shoreline, and on immediately adjacent shoreland areas.
- B) Public education by demonstrating the suitability of shoreline development with respect to ecological impacts.
- C) Improved fish and wildlife habitat.
- D) Public safety and shoreline aesthetics.

Rehabilitation of the shoreline is proposed in accordance with the approved Ministry of Natural Resources, class environmental assessment processes for shore and stream stabilization and access points and docks. The environmental assessment of this project is available for public viewing at the Frost Centre's Lands and Waters Office, weekdays (8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.) until April 15, 1991. Please contact the Frost Centre to arrange an appointment for review of the environmental assessment. If after reviewing the project you feel serious environmental concerns remain unanswered, it is your right to request in writing, that the Minister of Environment require this proposal to be subject to the formal review process of an individual environmental assessment. If we have not been advised of any serious concerns by April 15, 1991, the project will be finalized and filed with the Ministry of the Environment and the project will commence without further public consultation.

This is the final public notice to be sent. Copies have been mailed to affected private and government groups and to individuals previously expressing an interest in the undertaking.

If you have any further questions or comments, please contact Wayne Wilson, Fish and Wildlife Specialist, at the Frost Centre (705-766-2451) by April 15, 1991.

What to look for when buying a new home.

As a builder, people always ask me, "How do I know my new home will be built to the highest standards?"

It's a good question. Because while all homes are built to building code standards, there is only one type of home that's been given a special designation because it exceeds the building code to make it more energy efficient. In fact, it's so energy efficient that Ontario Hydro highly recommends it.

It's called the R2000 home. Seen from the street it looks like any other home. So what makes it so special?

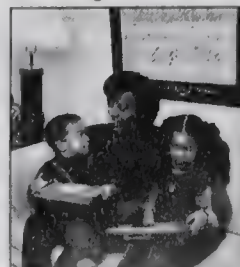

It's the way it's built. For example, R2000 homes are constructed with a greater attention to detail. This creates a more comfortable, even temperature in your home that also eliminates drafts and cold spots. And because of extra insulation and good quality doors and windows, R2000 homes reduce noise from neighbours and outside traffic.

Is clean, fresh air important to you and your family? The R2000 home lets you control the ventilation in your home. For example, you don't have to open the window for fresh air, the ventilation system will ensure a continuous supply at all times by exhausting the stale indoor air and replacing it with fresh outdoor air.

But there is one thing you must know. Builders must receive special training to build R2000 homes. And to ensure your home is built to official R2000 standards, it is individually inspected and given its own certificate. So look for the R2000 symbol, it's your way of knowing that the home you buy is a better built home.

For more information about R2000 homes, call the certified R2000 builder listed below.

Carrying on the shogatsu tradition

Canadian culture since the arrival of Europeans is still in the making.

Unlike the rituals, traditions and festivals of the First Nations peoples, our secular and religious holidays are not rooted in the land. They should be. Consider the Japanese celebration of "shogatsu" or New Year's Day.

Customarily women prepare for shogatsu for days, buying, cleaning and cooking. On New Year's Day, a sumptuous feast for eyes, nose and palate is laid out for guests, who are greeted with: "Welcome. We don't have much, but please help yourself."

My mother, who was born and raised in Canada, continued the Japanese tradition of shogatsu until Alzheimer's disease robbed her of the interest or ability to do it about 10 years ago. So my English-born wife, Tara, and I decided to carry on with the practice.

Reflections

by David Suzuki

As an only son in a traditional Japanese-Canadian family with three sisters, cooking was something I never had to do. But marriage to a feminist forced changes and, to my surprise, cooking has proved a delightful challenge and joy while preparation for shogatsu has become an important spiritual event for me.

Before the New Year, the entrance to our home is decorated with bamboo signifying strength and gentleness, evergreen pine boughs for health and longevity and plum blossoms for fidelity.

Soon after Christmas, Tara and I begin to prowl the markets of Chinatown and the small Japanese area on Powell Street in Vancouver to collect the necessary ingredients. The mainstay of the feast is "kome" (rice). When cooked, it is called "gohan", while "mochi" is a sweet glutinous rice that is pounded into a viscous pulp and molded into traditional cakes.

For "makizushi", the fancy rice tidbits, we need sheets of "tori" (seaweed) to wrap the outside and goodies for the centre that include: "katsuo" (bonito) flakes, "unagi" (eel), "kanpyo" (gourd) shavings, "tamago" (egg) and "shiitake" (wood mushrooms). For "oden" the important traditional stew of root vegetables, we use "daikon" (Japanese radish), "ninjin" (carrots), "sato imo" (taro), "renkon" (lotus root) and "gobo" (burdock root) to celebrate our

Federal budget tackles problems of recession, deficit

Canada is facing difficult economic times. We are in recession. Interest rates are high. The deficit and debt remain serious problems. People are fed up with taxes. There is a fear that Canada may not be able to compete in the world.

The federal budget announced on February 25 tackles these problems head on. It is a plan for recovery. This recovery will be spurred by lowering interest rates and inflation.

Canadians know that more spending means more taxes. Massive new government spending is not the solution to our problems. In fact, too much spending in the past is a large part of our current problems.

Decisive action has been taken to control government spending. While programs for our elderly, veterans, unemployed and native people have been left untouched, overall spending will be limited to increases that average 3% a year for the next five years. To ensure that this target is met, legislated spending limits will be brought in. Like your family, the government will have to set its priorities within a fixed income.

Report from Ottawa

With Bill Scott, MP

All revenues generated by the GST will be used to reduce the deficit. The revenues generated by this tax will not allow Ottawa to continue with a "business as usual" attitude.

In each of our names the federal government has now borrowed $15,000. This growing debt threatens our prosperity. The government's program sets out a plan to see repayment of this debt begin in 1994.

What will this program bring? The goal is lower interest rates that will stay low. This will provide an important economic boost to get us out of the recession.

To keep interest rates low, the government is setting inflation targets. Over the next few years inflation will be lowered to 2%. This will be a great benefit to those on fixed incomes and will allow for the reduction in interest rates.

Restraint will start at home. Cost increase in government operations will be severely restrained. Ministerial pay of the PM and cabinet will be frozen for one year. MPs pay will increase by the lesser of the rate of inflation minus one per cent or the average pay increase of civil servants. The total wage budget of the federal government will be frozen the next year. In the following years wage increases will be limited to an average of 3 per cent. Capital spending by departments and operating budgets will be frozen. Management will be reduced by 10%. These measures will save $3.6 billion over the next five years.

Concerns have been expressed that the restraint measures may reduce the federal government's ability to regulate medicare. The PC government will introduce new and stronger legislation shortly to ensure that national medicare standards are maintained. There will be no erosion of medicare.

The government has set aside $600 million to support our troops in the Gulf. Our participation in the coalition is an important part of our international obligations. Any of this money that is not needed will be used to reduce the deficit.

Seaweed, sashimi are key elements nurture from the soil through tubers that sustain us through the winter.

One of the key elements of any shogatsu is fresh seaweed to be served as "sashimi". So we scurry about the day before the event searching for fresh "ebi" (prawns), "awabi" (abalone), "mirugai" (geodurk), "kaibashira" (scallops), "tai" (red snapper), "sake" (salmon), "maguro" (tuna) and "bamachi" (yellowtail). And if we are lucky, Haida friends from the Queen Charlotte Islands will supply us with live "uni", sea urchins which yield delicate bands of ovaries, and "kazunoko", the highly prized herring roe on kelp.

Just as Christmas is a time for Christians to reflect on the meaning of the birth of Christ and all of the accompanying symbols, the feast for shogatsu is an occasion to think about the fecundity of the planet. In gathering the basic constituents of our New Year's feast, we are reminded powerfully of our complete dependence on the neutral world—plants, animals, fungi—for every bit of our nutrition. And while cracking open a sea urchin to remove the eggs, slicing off the roots of "horeneo" (spinach) to wash mud from the leaves or cutting up a whole tuna fish for slabs of "sashimi", it's impossible to be unaware of the biological nature of food.

Today, our sanitized, overpackaged supermarket products bear little resemblance to their original living state. All traces of soil, blemish, manure, blood, feathers, scales or fur are carefully eliminated so that we can buy our food without soiling our hands.

Preservatives, anti-fungal agents or dyes are simply ingredients on a label. We seldom think about the pesticides, herbicides, hormones and growth promoters used to speed and maximize growth of agricultural products. Most urban children today simply do not understand the biological source of their nutrition. And when living animals are transformed into packets of beef, giblets, bacon or mutton, we needn't think of grim lives spent by sentient beings in factory farms.

Food is the very building material of our bodies and is provided by other living things.

In the annual ritual of shogatsu, we get to celebrate our link with the earth and to honor the plants and animals that give their lives for us.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON, JOSEPH - In loving memory of a dear dad and grampa who passed away March 14, 1988.

Memories are like threads of gold, They never tarnish or grow old, And every day in some small way, Memories of you come our way.

Lovingly remembered by Gary, Lois and family.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON, JOSEPH - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away March 14, 1988.

We often think of you in silence, We often speak your name. All we have are memories, And your picture in a frame. Our hearts still ache in sadness, Our silent tears still flow, For what it meant to lose you, No one will ever know.

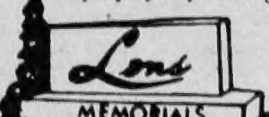

Lovingly remembered by Ross, Joan, Dwayne, Tammy, Christine, Cory, Terri-Anne & Shawn.

AT REST

FRANCIS, MARJORIE MAY - Suddenly at Minden Hospital on Monday, March 4, 1991, in her 71st year. Beloved wife of the late Ted Francis, dear mother of May and her husband Basil Stevenson, John and his wife Rhonda Francis, all of Minden. Loving grandmother of Sheldon Stevenson and Ted and Darnell Francis, dear sister of Doreen Jones, Emily Veale and Lloyd Minaker.

Rested at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden, Tuesday, March 5, 1991. Funeral Service in the Chapel on Wednesday, March 6. Interment Gelert Cemetery. Memorial donations to the Diabetic Association would be appreciated.
